GIRL SAYS IT WAS ABEEL.

IIIS FRIENDS PRACTICALLY AD-MIT THAT HE WAS "GOELET."

she Recognizes His Photograph-Bobert societ Asked to Call Off the Detectives young Man, in Hiding Near This ity. Denies That He's the Impostor

Miss Fleanor Anderson, the Grand Hotel telegraph operator, saw yesterday a phoh of James Abeel and said at once he was the man who, under the name of J. Ogden Goelet, Jr., made love to her, asked her to marry him and took her around to two churches in succession to make arrangements for the marriage.

Slavden of 5) Broadway, an old friend of the Abeel family in Waco, got a message from Mr. Abeel yesterday asking take charge of the son s interests til either he or the mother could get here The first thing that Mr. Slayden did was to write a letter to Robert Goelet, which he him by a special messenger yesterday afternoon. In this letter Mr. Slayden told Mr. Goelet that the parents of the oung man who had made so free with the Goele' name were greatly distressed by had occurred and that as nothing was he gained by keeping detectives after any man, now that Mr. Goelet had in detely cleared, he hoped they be called off and that no further e taken. He had received no be last night.

About did not surrender himself vesterday although Vice-President Robert Ferns of the Mooney & Boland Detective Agency his friends positively agreed to surrender him. The excuse given by the friends of the young man for not producing him vesterday, is that a woman friend of his mother, who lives in this city and who saw him on Sunday afternoon, advised him to keep in concealment until his mother arrives from her home in Waco, Tex. This woman friend telegraphed Mrs. Abeel at Waco yesterday as follows: Come on at once. Jim is in serious

Mrs. Abeel is expected to-night or tomorrow morning and unless the detectives run Abeel down in the meantime, he will not appear until after he has seen and conferred with his mother. After that, it is understood, he will make a clean breast of the entire affair on condition that the Goelets will drop any prosecution they may have contemplated.

After Abeel disappeared from The Chateau, Central Park West, where he boarded with his young wife, he communicated with his mother's friend in this city and made an appointment to meet her outside of town. He did meet her on Sunday afternoon and she told detectives vesterday the result of the interview, although she refused to give the slightest clue to Abeel's hiding place. She said that Abeel declared very positively to her that he was not the man who had posed as J. Ogden Goelet and that he did not know of Miss Anderson. As he couldn't give any reason for running away and hiding, the woman told him she didn't believe him and then advised him to keep under cover until after he had seen his mother.

William Anderson, the young woman's father, and her uncle, Daniel McIntosh, florist of this city, received word yesterday from East Long Branch, where Miss Anderson and her mother are staying at the Meintosh cottage, that, although the photograph of Abeel shown to the girl was taken when he was 19 years old and he is now over 22, she had been positive in her identification.

Young Mrs. Abeel, followed by private detectives, who think she may lead them to her husband, went to her home at Longmeadow, near Springfield, Mass., yester-day afternoon. Mrs. Mary E. Shaler, tractor who died as a result of an accident in the section of the subway that he was ulding, escorted her to the Grand Centra ation. Mrs. Shaler is distantly related Station. Mrs. Shaler is distantly related by marriage to Mrs. Abeel. Two detective went to Springfield by the same train Mrs. Abeel took, which left at 6 o'clock. Mrs. Abeel is a rather small, very pretty woman, and was heavily veiled. She was a Miss Edith De Forrest, daughter of a railroad contractor of Longmeadow. She married Aboel inst about a year ago. Before she Edith De Forrest, daugnter of a rairoad contractor of Longmeadow. She married Abeel just about a year ago. Before she left her boarding house she authorized her landlady, Mrs. Goss, to say that she believed that her husband was mentally unbalanced.

A man who said he was a relative of Abel called on Mrs. Abeel at her boarding house yesterday morning and as he was leaving the house furnished the reporters with some information about Abeel. He said: beel's father is well to do. fred J. Abeel of Waco, Tex., and is a mer-chant. James has always been supplied with plenty of money, but it seems hardly enough to go the pace he appears to have been following lately. His marriage was very sudden, and the family was very much prised to hear it, although they knew ad been attentive to a number of young men. Last May James took his wife to wan to visit his people. They remained there until early in October, when they returned to this city. I have not seen them since they returned. This summer James Abeel, died and the control of the cont cheef's uncle, Thomas B. Abeel, died and effta considerable fortune. A good portion of this was left to James, but he is not to tet his share until he is 25 years old. He snow only a little over 22."

It developed yesterday that considerable eling has arisen between the private electives employed by the Goelet family orun down Abeel and the police detectives.

trail of the police detectives. On Saturday night, it developed yesterday, Vallely and his partner, Collins, got up an elaborate plan with S. Duncan Leverich of 27 North Washington square, Mrs. Shaler's father, to trap Abeel. Mr. Leverich believed he could lead the detectives to Abeel's hiding place, or could at least reach Abeel and set him where the detectives could have an iterview with him. Mr. Leverich, according to the story told yesterday, went also believed him where the detectives could have an iterview with him. Mr. Leverich, according to the story told yesterday, went alone to several places where he thought Abecl might be, and was followed everywhere the private detectives. He went back Vallely and Collins and told them he could do nothing as long as he was followed. The police detectives remonstrated with the private detectives but could not induce them to drop Mr. Leverich. Mr. Leverich and Vallely and Collins were together all Saturday night, but could not shake off the Drivate detectives. Mr. Leverich refused to private detectives. Mr. Leverich refused to go to certain places where he thought he might get information about Abeel as long as the private detectives were on the trial. Leverich said last night that or this interference he might have run jown Abeel on Saturday night.

"I have been guved to death about this ase on the Stock Exchange," said Mr. Everich, yesterday, "and I want to explain her. I have severally severa that I have no connection with it at all, save that I knew Abeel slightly. He came to me some time ago on a business proposi-tion. We talked the thing over and while it was still pending he said he would like to have me come up and see him and his wife. So one evening I went up and did meet Mrs. Abeel. That is the only time I ever say her add good proposes came to I ever saw her and as our business came to an end shortly afterward there was never any occasion for me to see Abeel again. His wife's relationship with Mrs. Shaler is a very remote one by marriage. It is my fitm opinion that Abeel is irresponsible. When I talked with him his ideas were rather disconnected. He smoked cigarettes constantly and was altogether a queer fellow. I believe he will soon give himself up. He cannot hide long; that is certain."

Mrs. Shaler wished to disown what purported to be an interview with her published yesterday. In this interview Mrs. Shaler was quoted as saying that Mrs. Abeel had said she knew her husband was the man who had posed as J. Ogden Goelet.

"Mrs. Abeel never told me any such thing and I never invented it," said Mrs. Shaler.

"Mrs. Abeel knew nothing of this affair until she saw it all in the newspapers, and the blow has been a serious one for her. It is too soon to talk about this matter. Let us wait and see what comes of it all."

It is said that for the proposed arrest of Abeel the detectives rely on Section 562 of the Penal Code, which says:

A person who falsely personates another.

A person who falsely personates another, and in such assumed character marries or pretends to marry, or to sustain the marriage relation toward another, with or without the connivance of the latter or does any act * whereby, if it were done by the person falsely personated, such person might in any event become liable to an action or special proceeding, civil or criminal * * is punishable by imprisonment in a State prison for not more than ten years.

prison for not more than ten years.

J. Ogden Goelet, Jr., being a fictitious personage, it is not easy to see that his impersonator has done bim any damage or that there has been any "false personation of another." Young Anderson, brother of the girl, seems to think that it is up to him to get a gun.

Springfield, Mass., Nov. 9.—Mrs. Abeel said on her arrival here that she had not heard from her husband. Her father met her and took her home, two detectives following.

STREET CAR STRIKE IMMINENT.

It Would Tie Up Traffic in Troy, Albany Watervillet and Cohoes.

TROY, Nov. 9. Unless the United Trac tion Company reinstates a conductor discharged for incompetency, the employees of the Troy d vision threaten to strike on Friday. The company has been firm in its refusal and it is believed the strike is its refusal and it is believed the strike is certain. It will mean the tie-up of traffic, not only in this city, but also in Albany, Watervliet and Coices. The cars of the Schenectady and Hudson Valley Railway comparies will also be prevented from entering these cities. Such a condition of affairs at this time will cause great financial damage and is viewed with alarm by merchants and citizens generally.

REHEARSE GOELET WEDDING.

DUKE OF ROXBURGHE DIDN'T OBJECT, LIKE MARLBOROUGH.

Went Through the Drill and It Was All Over in 20 Minutes-The Curious Shut Out of Church-Bishop of Albany Officiates - Honeymoon at Newport

The wedding of Miss May Goelet and the Duke of Roxburghe will take place in St. Thomas's Church, Fifty-third street and Fifth avenue, at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon -if the bride isn't late. A rehearsal of part of the ceremony was held yesterday after-

Four days more than eight years ago yesterday, in the same church, a rehearsal of the Marlborough-Vanderbilt wedding was held without Marlborough. That young man insisted that he could get through a marriage ceremony without re

Whether the young Duke of Roxburghe Whether the young Duke of Roxburghe had been told of the experience of his cousin the young Duke of Marlborough (Roxburghe's mother was the sister of Marlborough's father), or whether he felt that a little rehearsing would do him no harm, he was on hand yesterday and went through his part according to instructions. If the wedding passes off as smoothly as the rehearsal there will not be a jar in the ceremony of changing an American girl into an American Duchess.

Of course, the curious public was there an American Duchess.

Or course, the curious public was there to see the show. Some of them got inside the church. They were invited to remove themselves. Then the rehearsal proceeded. Miss Nina Thayer of Boston, one of the bridesmaids, was the first to arrive at the church. It has been said that New England girls are never tardy when they are concerned in business relating to a wedding. Miss Alice Babcock was the next of the bridesmaids to appear, and she was followed soon afterward by Miss Martha Johnston, attended by De Lancey Kountze, whom she is soon to marry.

The Rev. Dr. Ernest Stires, rector of St. Thomas's, gave general directions for the rehearsal, which was over and done with in twenty minutes. Miss Goelet walked down the aisle on the arm of her brother, Robert, who will give her away. Directly in front of them walked young Mrs. Vanderbilt, and from that fact it was assumed that she will be the bride's matron of honor. While the names of the bridesmaids were announced several days ago, nothing announced several days ago, nothing official has been said about a maid The rehearsal over, Roxburghe and Miss

KAISER'S CONDITION GOOD.

DR. RENVERS SAYS TUMOR WAS NOT SERIOUS.

He Attended the Late Empress Frederick Who Died of Cancer-Official Declaration That the Emperor Has No Dangerous Affliction-Wound Healing

BERLIN, Nov. 9 .- The physicians attendng the German Emperor report that he continues to do well following the operation which was performed on him Saturday for a polypus on the vocal cords. The following bulletin was issued by the physicians this morning:

"The general condition of his Majesty is good. The temperature and pulse are nor mal. The inflammatory reaction which, as a matter of course, sets in after an operation is already subsiding. The healing of the wound will probably take eight days.

In conversation with the correspondent of THE SUN to-day in regard to the illness of the Kaiser, Dr. Geheimrat Renvers, who attended the late En-press Frederick, expressed the belief that the bulletins issued by the physicians were entirely reliable. Personally, he was convinced that the Emperor's illness was of the harmless, simple nature which is common to teachers, preachers and military officers in fact, to every one who has to use the voice constantly. It has no more to do with cancer than catarrh of the stomach has to do with typhoid fever. None of the symptoms of cancer was mentioned in the report of the diagnosis, and consequently it may be expected that the Kaiser will be in his normal health possibly in three or four days. The disease has nothing to do with smoking or the Emperor's general way of Replying to a question as to whether malignant cancerous growth could be transmitted from parents to children, Dr. Renvers answered emphatically in the negative

The Lokalanzeiger says that it has been authorized to declare as emphatically as possible that there is not the slightest suspicion that the Emperor is suffering from any sort of dangerous affliction. The repdam says that he learns that some weeks ago his Majesty had an uncomfortable sensation in the throat. This was known to some people, and while the Kaiser was at Wiesbaden with the Czar he was asked if he had investigated the trouble. He was unconcerned over the matter and simply said: "I haven't time now."

It is announced semi-officially this evening that the condition of the Emperor is entirely satisfactory. Beyond cancelling his Majesty's immediate engagements nothing has been changed in the arrange ments of the imperial household. Among the functions cancelled was the Emperor's luncheon to have been given to-day in honor of the birthday of his uncle King Edward of England, but he sent a long elegram of congratulation to the King, whom he assured of the harmlessness of the operation and of his complete general health His Majesty transacted considerable work

The newspapers publish interviews with many eminent specialists. Their opinion is that the trouble is harmless. Prof. Orth, after making a microscopic examination of the polypus removed from the Emperor's larynx, has authorized the statement that his Majesty is absolutely free of cancer and everything of a cancerous nature. Dr. Fraenckel, a prominent throat specialist, says that the ailment as already cured, the removal of the growth being identical with the eradication of the malady.

Coffee Uses Them Whether One Likes or

The ill effects of coffee are present in many coffee drinkers but some people pay no attention to the warning signals like dyspepsia, insomnia, nervousness, fluttering of the heart, etc., until coffee finally uses a knock down argument which means collapse on the part of the coffee drinker. "I am 30 years old and have drank coffee since I can remember until four years ago when I broke down completely with nervous prostration and indigestion. I simply cannot describe the agony I suffered. "Doctor told me he could not help me if I did not leave coffee alone so I bought some Postum to give it a trial. At first I did not know how to make it and was disappointed in the taste, but after reading the directions on the package carefully made it right, and then I thought it better than coffee. At that time I weighed 140 pounds and now I weigh 185 pounds, that's quite a gain isn't it? I never have indigestion now and the headaches are all gone and I am otherwise entirely well and strong. "I never had any troubles that were not due to drinking coffee and these disappeared and health came in their plac when given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.
